White House Action To Avert Rail Strike Forecast

President Will Move To Avert Big Rail Strike

White House Announces Truman Will Take Steps Necessary In Situation

READY TO APPOINT FACT-FINDING BOARD (BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(INS)—The White House announced today that President Truman will move to avert a nation-wide railroad strike by appointing an emergency fact-finding board to inquire into the wage demands of the railroad brotherhoods.

Effect of this action will be to automatically save off any strike for a period of 60 days.

Two of the railroad brotherhoods, the engineers and the trainmen, had voted to start a progressive strike at 6 a. m. EST Monday.

Will Name Panel

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said Mr. Truman would appoint the emergency panel "very shortly—possibly today."

In the designation of this panel the president will be acting under provisions of the railway labor act which gives such a board 30 days in which to study any labor dispute and draft recommendations. At the end of that period, another 30 days is allowed the president and his advisors to study those recommendations before an actual walk-out can begin.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Preview of spring of the past few days has resulted in the housecleaning urge to get results. Spring housecleaning is under way in many homes in the city.

Second inspection reveals that the hole in the paving on Highland avenue, near Fairfield, has been filled, and also that the debris where the house was torn down on North Mercer street, has been made more presentable.

The unseasonable weather of the past week has caused crocuses and snowdrops to burst into bloom. Crocuses have noticed blooming at Judge Martin's home on North Mercer street, yesterday, and C. J. W. Gustafson, News pressman, reports snowdrops at his home on the Pulaski road. This is about the earliest Pa New can remember of these flowers blooming.

Several Washington street buildings have been much improved in the past few days by a nice coating of fresh new paint.

Pa New observed a sailor on East Washington street Wednesday afternoon proudly exhibiting one of those "handlebar" type of mustaches. It was nicely waxed with every hair in its proper place.

Memories of the days when traffic lights were non-existent were recalled Wednesday afternoon at Mill and Washington streets, when a traffic cop was directing traffic by hand, blowing his whistle to stop the oncoming cars and let others by. The signal light overhead was darkened.

At the corner of Garfield and Blaine streets, a practice has been made for some time of feeding a few pheasants that had gathered in the district. Day by day the birds have been gathering about 7 o'clock in the morning.

Probe Of Sugar Black Market Is Progressing

PITTSBURGH, March 7.—(INS)—The federal grand jury probe into Pittsburgh's sugar black market went into its second day today as the government attempted to prove that millions of pounds of sugar disappeared in illegal sales instead of going to grocers shelves.

Two OPA employees broke down and cried when they testified before the panel. One of the tearful witnesses was Guy M. Keatley, suspended investigator. The other was not identified.

An investigator declared that "millions and millions" of pounds of sugar went to some bakers, candy cream and soft drink manufacturers.

Huge Sums Involved

Hundreds of thousands of dollars changed hands in illegal sales. Black market prices ranged from 10 to 20 cents above ceiling, said the investigator.

At the opening hearing, Judge Walter S. Gourley told the jurors they had unlimited authority to conduct a full investigation and to spare no one. He said the government charged gross misconduct, irregularities and unlawful actions in the rationing, selling and distribution of sugar.

Meanwhile, several OPA employees were under suspicion and wholesalers, individual citizens and persons with political connections were expected to be subpoenaed.

Wood said the investigator spent several weeks at Oak Ridge, with the knowledge of the war department, which is in control of the atomic bomb project.

Wood stated that he had been authorized by the committee to reveal that the House group has been conducting an undercover probe to determine whether attempts were being made to obtain secret data on atomic energy.

Intervention In General Motors Strike Is Asked

DETROIT, March 7.—(INS)—Intervention by the federal government in the 107-day old General Motors strike was asked today by the Detroit common council and officials of the CIO United Automobile Workers.

Spurred to action following a complete breakdown in strike negotiations the council telegraphed President Truman to intervene by calling the disputants to Washington and acting as mediator.

UAW officials said they were prepared to accept a similar appeal.

Federal Mediator James F. Dewey left for Washington last night after a fruitless negotiation session was adjourned early so he could catch a train. He will report to Labor Secretary Lewis Shellenbach on the stalemate.

Entrance of the city government into the dispute was spearheaded by President George Edwards of the council, himself a CIO officer who was recently discharged from army service, Edwards declared.

"It's about time the strike is brought to an end," he proposed that other cities affected by the strike through shutdowns of GM plants make a similar plea to President Truman.

National Phone Strike Averted Near Deadline

Threatened Nationwide Phone Strike Called Off At 5:35 A. M. Today

WAGE AGREEMENT FINALLY REACHED

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(INS)—The threatened national telephone strike was called off today just 25 minutes before the 6 a. m. starting deadline for the paralyzing communications tieup.

Joseph A. Beirne, president of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, sent out orders at 5:35 a. m. EST to 250,000 workers in 51 affiliated unions throughout the nation to stay on the job.

The action came after a two day government peace parley climaxed by an all night session attended by union-management representatives and key labor department officials.

Wage Agreement

The NFWT cancelled the walkout on the basis of a wage agreement between the A. T. & T. and the Federation of Long Line Workers providing a pay boost ranging from five to eight dollars a week for 18,300 long distance employees.

The NFWT accepted the settlement as the "pattern" for adjusting other wage controversies involving A. T. & T. subsidiaries, including the Western Electric Company and the nationwide Bell Telephone systems.

At 5:35 a. m. after spending eight hours polling NFWT affiliates, by telephone to secure their approval of the pact, the lead-eyed, weary Beirne dispatched this telegram to member unions:

May I suggest to the weather man that he's jumping the gun a miff; the weather is such that the buds are out (always a pretty sight), but what if he hands us a killing frost or temperatures way down below, and a lot of wind that will chill the buds and a blanket of heavy snow. Those peaches and apples will suffer a heap, and the cherries will fade away, which wouldn't be good if you like those things—it's fifty-seven today.

Taft Challenges Statement On British Loan

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(INS)—Assistant Secretary of State William Clayton declared today that even if the United States received no money back on the proposed three billion 750 million dollar cash loan to Britain it would be an excellent deal.

Clayton told the senate banking committee:

"For a cost of 140 million dollars a year we would be opening up the markets of the whole world to our exports."

Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, immediately challenged the statement. He demanded:

"Do you think the profits on the added trade would amount to more than 140 millions a year?"

Clayton explained that additional employment in the United States would figure in the value of added export as well as actual profits.

Taft retorted:

"There is an economical advantage but it's only marginal."

The senator declared that in the loan agreement the United States is asked to finance Britain's export deficiency in the whole world.

Clayton testified that Britain can "easily" meet the 140 millions a year payment on the loan if multilateral trade is restored in the world.

SMALL STEEL PLANTS STILL ASKING RELIEF

than seven weeks face the possibility of never again opening a door if the union persists in its demand of 18 1/2 cents an hour increase, since those companies also would be forced to pay the $5 per ton advance in steel prices allowed basic steel before it acceded to the 18 1/2 cent an hour wage hike.

Evans said a statement from Labor department officials that President Truman's March 4 ruling regarding miscellaneous companies still out on steel workers strikes left the industry without a wage pattern, indicates that they do not understand that the companies cannot by any stretch of the imagination be classified as an industry.

Many Still Out

Pittsburgh, March 7.—Pittsburgh's big basic steel mills came closer and closer to full reconstruction production today, for more than 12,000 steelworkers in Western Pennsylvania the strike situation hadn't changed.

They are employees of some 40 small fabricating companies whose gates remained closed as management, the OPA and the CIO-United Steelworkers sought to untangle the wage-price knot.

The steel fabricators claim they can't increase prices until the OPA gives them a price ceiling.

The OPA replies that they must award the pay boost and then apply for price ceiling relief.

Want To Return

Workers of some small firms, tired of picket duty, expressed the desire to go back to work for wage increases lower than the 18 1/2 cent level. But the CIO prevented any agreements by insisting that everyone must get a 18 1/2 cent hourly hike.

Many small fabricating firms are faced with permanent shutdown unless price relief is soon forthcoming, a spokesman for the fabricators said. They are confronted with the problem of paying higher wages at a time when they must pay 10 to 20 per cent more for their materials, he added.

Heads of many small concerns insist that they will not agree to wage increases until the OPA gives them assurance of price relief.

gram of a firm and aggressive foreign policy which moved the United States toward a showdown with the Soviet on postwar plans.

One of two recent protest notes dealt with Russia's continued refusal to withdraw troops from Iran although she had agreed by treaty to do so last Saturday. The second involved reported Russian action in stripping Manchuria of Jap war concessions and seeking further concessions there which might close the "open door" to American business.

Make Texts Public

The state department was understood to be planning to make public the text of the Iran and Manchuria notes as soon as they have been delivered to the Kremlin.

This in itself was considered an aggressive move. Usually the United States, in respect for Moscow's dislike for any wide publicity, has avoided issuing texts of notes until replies have been received and permission granted for publication.

About $42,000,000,000 was given by the U. S. to its Allies in lend-lease goods and services.

than seven weeks face the possibility of never again opening a door if the union persists in its demand of 18 1/2 cents an hour increase, since those companies also would be forced to pay the $5 per ton advance in steel prices allowed basic steel before it acceded to the 18 1/2 cent an hour wage hike.

Evans said a statement from Labor department officials that President Truman's March 4 ruling regarding miscellaneous companies still out on steel workers strikes left the industry without a wage pattern, indicates that they do not understand that the companies cannot by any stretch of the imagination be classified as an industry.

Many Still Out

Pittsburgh, March 7.—Pittsburgh's big basic steel mills came closer and closer to full reconstruction production today, for more than 12,000 steelworkers in Western Pennsylvania the strike situation hadn't changed.

They are employees of some 40 small fabricating companies whose gates remained closed as management, the OPA and the CIO-United Steelworkers sought to untangle the wage-price knot.

The steel fabricators claim they can't increase prices until the OPA gives them a price ceiling.

The OPA replies that they must award the pay boost and then apply for price ceiling relief.

Want To Return

Workers of some small firms, tired of picket duty, expressed the desire to go back to work for wage increases lower than the 18 1/2 cent level. But the CIO prevented any agreements by insisting that everyone must get a 18 1/2 cent hourly hike.

Many small fabricating firms are faced with permanent shutdown unless price relief is soon forthcoming, a spokesman for the fabricators said. They are confronted with the problem of paying higher wages at a time when they must pay 10 to 20 per cent more for their materials, he added.

Heads of many small concerns insist that they will not agree to wage increases until the OPA gives them assurance of price relief.

gram of a firm and aggressive foreign policy which moved the United States toward a showdown with the Soviet on postwar plans.

One of two recent protest notes dealt with Russia's continued refusal to withdraw troops from Iran although she had agreed by treaty to do so last Saturday. The second involved reported Russian action in stripping Manchuria of Jap war concessions and seeking further concessions there which might close the "open door" to American business.

Make Texts Public

The state department was understood to be planning to make public the text of the Iran and Manchuria notes as soon as they have been delivered to the Kremlin.

This in itself was considered an aggressive move. Usually the United States, in respect for Moscow's dislike for any wide publicity, has avoided issuing texts of notes until replies have been received and permission granted for publication.

About $42,000,000,000 was given by the U. S. to its Allies in lend-lease goods and services.

Tuberculosis Is Studied By Workers At All-Day Meeting

Nutritionist Speaks To TB Workers At Session In Castleton

Hotel Wednesday

Tuberculosis workers, secretaries, Health Educators and nurses met for an all day meeting at the Castleton Hotel Wednesday. Six counties were represented.

General discussions on tuberculosis programs and case finding projects were held.

Miss Ruth Roth, Nutritionist, with the Pennsylvania Health Department gave an interesting talk "Nutrition and Tuberculosis" and displayed attractive posters and literature on Nutrition.

While Tuberculosis has moved from top place as "killer" to third, (Heart and Cancer now lead), according to statistics 4,000 people will die of tuberculosis in Pennsylvania during 1946.

Tuberculin testing, and X-raying of positive reactors, is being done by the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society at Shenango Consolidated School, St. Joseph's School, St. Mary's School and the Madonna School this week, and also at the Villa Maria High School at New Bedford.

morning for the grain, and today the flock had increased until 15 were noted in the breakfast squad. Almost every morning there has been an increase in the number of birds appearing, since the first few were fed a short time ago.

Spring will make her official arrival here two weeks from today at 12:33 a. m., according to the calendar.

Even with the warm spring weather, March winds were very prevalent Wednesday. Citizens had a difficult time keeping the children and dirt from blowing into their eyes.

Pa News is in receipt of the following: "In Monday evening's News you made a good suggestion on one way to save food, by making smaller loaves of bread, as well as the larger ones. Today I saw from my window a shameful waste of bread, along the side of an apartment house, where there is a row of garbage cans, always overflowing. Five little boys and one girl, all under school age, ran to one of the cans and pulled out and scattered over the street 18 slices of bread, some were toasted. Some of the children even ate some of it. It is shameful, the number of little children who play in the street, unattended, and are in danger of automobiles. A worse condition could hardly be found in any slum district."

This year's warm spell is just about two weeks earlier than the record warm wave which occurred last March, and many folks are apprehensive lest it continue and bring the fruit trees on ahead too soon, only to have the fruit crop killed off by heavy frosts which are certain to follow. The average temperature for this week of March this year has been six degrees warmer than in March last year.

Another sign of approaching spring was noticed by Pa News when two boys were observed flying kites on Boyles field, Highland avenue.

At 5:45 this morning Pa News received a mysterious telephone call—mysterious because there was no one on the other end after some delay in answering. What we wonder now is whether an exuberant operator was ringing out the tidings that an agreement had been reached to prevent a telephone strike.

It may seem like rushing the season and a little early to start the Peace After Victory garden season but Pa News planted a short row of Black-Seeded Simpson lettuce yesterday. After all, it's the early rabbit gets the first lettuce leaf.

Pa News noted surveyors at work on Wednesday afternoon, at a downtown site reported to figure in the negotiations concerning erection of a new theatre here. According to reports the theatre will seat around 1600 persons, as at present contemplated.

REPORT 996 AXIS SUBS DESTROYED IN RECENT WAR

these submarines wiped out in the battle of the sea lanes around the world.

Against the Germans the British score was the highest with a credit for 324 U-boats wiped out by ships and planes. The American navy was credited with 120 German U-boat sinkings and the army with 54.

Other and unknown causes accounted for 83 German submarines.

British Destroy Italian Subs

The British destroyed 68 Italian submarines against two by the American navy and two by the U. S. army. Other causes accounted for 13 Italian undersea craft.

In the Pacific the British were given credit for only nine and one half Japanese submarines. The American navy was given credit for 110 and one half. Other causes accounted for ten more.

The Pacific score listed no sinkings of Japanese subs by the army, although during the war air force planes reportedly destroyed some.

Hoover's Trip Needed

With the plan for former President Hoover to go to Europe to survey actual food conditions in the distressed areas, the American people have assurance that in our national effort to prevent famine over there we are not going to be working in the dark.

Some doubting minds may harbor the suspicion that food shortages may be overestimated. That might occur in some areas. It is worth while to dig out all the facts in order to prevent such misrepresentation or to dispel the suspicions.

Mr. Hoover, of course, comes to this task with an exceptional background of experience and knowledge because of his notable service in Europe after World War I in dealing with famine conditions. He should be able to detect any important concealment of food resources which might unnecessarily increase the burden upon this country and to appraise the real needs which must be met to avert mass starvation abroad.

America, for its own protection as well as for good conscience, must do its utmost to help in the war-created food shortage emergency. But it is important that the food supplies we can make available shall go where they are most needed, as swiftly as we can get them there. Mr. Hoover's survey should go a long way toward making American help as efficient as that policy demands it must be.

Production Is The Cure

To smash the black market in textiles, the Treasury and Justice departments and the OPA have joined in a three-cornered drive. Their aims are laudable, but it is like trying to clean up a marsh full of mosquitoes with a flyswatter to attempt to deal with the black market in this way.

The real cure is not enforcement but increased production. Black markets thrive on scarcity. As long as there are shortages of fabrics there will be men willing to cheat the public and the government by buying and selling at higher prices than the law allows. No enforcement drive, however vigorous, can end this traffic as long as goods are short.

The one thing that will drive the black marketeers out of business is a flood of textile materials so great that there will be no profit left in the illegal trade. Production is the only method by which the store shelves can be filled.

Were the nation in the middle of a war the government would have no alternative but to rely on the kind of drive it has just begun, no matter how ineffective it might be. But there is no real excuse for resorting to such methods now. Industry has the mills, it has the workers and it has the raw materials to turn out great quantities of textiles.

What is holding up production is the pricing policy followed by the OPA. Ceilings fixed so low that mills cannot profitably manufacture low-cost shirts, and shorts, and dresses do not benefit the consumer. They hold down production, keep clothes off the market and help create the very black markets which the OPA is now setting out to smash.

The College Outlook

A survey of 500 American liberal arts colleges, made by the New York Times, revealed that they face the largest enrollment in their history, and they are striving against unusual odds to accept the veterans and civilians who seek education advantages. An all-time high of 1,500,000 undergraduates is indicated. To meet this responsibility, 85 per cent of the institutions surveyed announce that they are planning to go beyond their former peacetime capacity.

The Times found a few colleges in each state where capacity enrollment has not yet been attained and where the prospects for next autumn do not create a picture of overcrowding. After discounting the estimated September demands, each of these colleges will have room for additional students.

This demand creates an unprecedented demand upon institution facilities and facilities, but the greatest need is for housing. But even when new living quarters are available it seems certain that many who wish to matriculate will be left on the waiting lists when September comes.

Franco Is Fading

The world is witnessing the beginning of the end for Franco. By all accounts, he is attempting to crush opposition on the home front by executions and other manifestations of severity. But there is no aid in sight for Franco, no Hitler and Mussolini to pour troops and weapons into the country as once was the case.

The Franco military forces are not in position to wage war. Spain is one of the most seriously underfed of all countries. It will starve without imports. Franco, if he attempted to attack France, would find himself beset by that portion of the Spanish people that is eager to throw off his dictatorship.

Retribution for the man who wanted Hitler and Mussolini to win and who aided them in every way he could is now close upon his heels. He seemed to hope to ride out the storm by protesting to the victors that he never was opposed to them. No one swallowed that story.

Franco has become a totalitarian, Nazi-sympathizing anachronism. He can not hang on, but the nature of his passing is yet to be revealed.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed By International News Service)

If the UNO doesn't find a home it may not make much difference. There's trouble everywhere you look except in Mrs. Roosevelt's column.

Henry Wallace has been silent about the bright new world for two days and Claude Pepper hasn't made a speech in a week on "We must give genuine cooperation to Russia."

The UNO which started so bravely at San Francisco and traveled so gallantly to London is dragging its feet as it approaches Greenwich.

Residents of Greenwich don't want the UNO 3 to 1 and the world seems to be silently voting the same way.

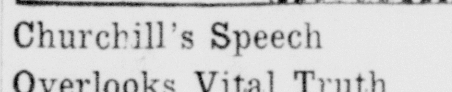

So far the UNO has proved nothing except that you can't make good pies if there's a rotten apple in the barrel. You can try to ignore it or a blight is a blight.

An anthropologist in Chicago says we think too much and eventually will think ourselves into extinction. In fact we tend to extinct a little at the moment.

Stand by for further prophecies.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

Churchill's Speech
Overlooks Vital Truth

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Winston Churchill's Missouri speech was like a good, rich Christmas pudding of the days before austerity and shortages. There was something in it for everyone.

It ended with a plea for an understanding with Soviet Russia through the United Nations. You could put that kind of an interpretation on it if you were of a mind to. But throughout the world, the emphasis undoubtedly will be on the strong anti-Russian bias which ran through the body of the speech. The other—the pious conclusion—had too much semblance of an afterthought.

History Repeats

The way in which history repeats itself is startling. There were sentences in Churchill's address which might almost have been lifted out of the flaming speeches he made after World War I.

True, in their tone toward Russia they were somewhat milder. In 1919 Churchill was an ardent crusader bent on putting down Communism in the USSR. He was for using the armed might of the Allies to smash the Bolshevik revolution. And he said so over and over again with all the weight of his very great eloquence.

Through the 20s one of his favorite themes in his writing and his speech-making was the menace to the world of the Red Revolution disseminated by Moscow. He never lost an opportunity to refer to the Bolshevik leaders as murderers and ministers of hell.

Quite naturally, this did nothing to bring Russia and Western Europe closer together. Churchill's long-drawn-out eloquence may have helped to inspire some of his countrymen who later were to cherish the dream that Germany could be turned against Russia to destroy Bolshevism. Highly placed Tories continued to nurse that hope long after Hitler had built up his barbarous legions for the conquest of Europe.

Fifth Column Dangers

Churchill, it should be added, was never one of these. He was one of the first to see what the menace of Hitlerism meant. But we now find the great wartime leader linking Communism with "neo-Fascism" and talking of the danger to Christian civilization of Communist fifth columns.

What Churchill would set against the threat, if you reduce his speech to its simplest terms, is an alliance between the United States and the British Commonwealth. There would be a complete interchange of the military level and perhaps on other levels.

Granted that Churchill is sincere in his desire to have peace with Russia, his speech as read in the Kremlin might well seem to be a challenge. It might well be read as a documentation of Stalin's recent speech in which he told his people that the USSR had to be strong because other nations had designs on her security.

Overlooks Vital Truth

Churchill's speech, it seems to me, overlooks a vital truth. That is that you cannot fight the "Communist menace" by armed alliances.

So long as our own economy is a healthy, going economy, we are in no danger here at home. That is an example to the world. But also Britain and the United States must make it clear to colonial and subject peoples that they mean to help them toward higher standards of living and toward the freedoms we talk about so glibly in our speeches.

If millions of people come to believe there is no hope under our system—millions in India, in Indonesia, in the Middle East—they will turn to something else. And if that is Communism, Communism can only exploit disaffection and discontent that fester in old resentments and injustices.

Take a small example. Churchill spoke of our military power around the world. That power has suffered serious disintegration growing out of the "I wanna go home" fever.

Naval intelligence has established that some of the ringleaders in the demonstrations were Communists. But if thousands upon thousands of G.I.s had not been sore at what they felt were needless delays, if they had not smarted under the officer caste system, then a few Communists could have had no influence whatsoever.

More action and less rhetoric would seem to be a good prescription for us here in the United States. Talk, as we've learned before, is so cheap except when the bill finally comes due.

MUSICAL OUTCAST

Once I tried to be the tenor of a barber shop quartet. I had longed to be admitted to our music-warbling set. But the high notes tenors manage were a bit too much for me. And they told me when I tried them: "You are sadly off the key!"

There were other sad occasions in the years so swiftly flown. When I tried in manly fashion to become a baritone. Then I yodeled "Danny Deever" and "The Road to Mandalay." But, "You're off the key," they snorted in a most derisive way.

As a basso last I soloed, but I woke them from their sleep. The many, many brave hearts who are slumbering neath the deep. And the guests assembled snickered, and a wag inquired of me: "Are you really seaship, brother, or just badly off the key?"

The name of spinach in Chinese is said to be "putai", but one thing is certain, it tastes just the same.

WE'RE NOT BAD OFF

According to a contemporary columnist, the average American is not so bad off. He has a price ceiling over his head, confusion to clothe him; labor-management differences to keep him plenty warm; his own words to eat, and promises to protect his future.

The 21-year-old wife of a G. I. just arrived in this country is so enthused about it all she expresses her gratitude in six different languages. We wish some of the so-called 100 per cent Americans loved this country just as much.

All of us are selfish. When we do something unselfish, it is because we enjoy doing it more than we'd enjoy not doing it.

SECRET OF SUCCESS

Trying to bring home to his audience the evils of drink, the speaker was telling them how his own life had been influenced by total abstinence.

"Three years ago," he said proudly, "there were two men in my office holding positions superior to mine. One was dismissed for drunkenness; the other was led into crime, and is now serving a term in prison. All through strong drink. So I am now head of my department. I ask you," he wound up, "what has raised me to my present position?"

"Drink!" came the unexpected reply from the back of the hall.

Americans are all capitalists at heart, a Kent O. lecturer told students there recently, but most of them he stated, are temporarily embarrassed. This temporary embarrassment often lasts a lifetime. He added sadly, "Ain't it the truth. Those who are the bitterest against the capitalists are those who are the most jealous of them."

The city of Alton, Ill., advertised for bids for two new motorcycles to replace two old machines on the verge of a nervous collapse. Not a single bid was received, but they did get an offer for the two old motorcycles.

"And what are you going to do with the clipping?"

Indefensible State Of Affairs Exists In U. S.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The consistent ability of organized minorities to render impotent the great majority of our citizens in an acute national crisis is perhaps the weakest thing about the American system. Unable to function intelligently ourselves, it makes slightly absurd insistence upon other nations adopting our methods.

FIRST requisite to the world leadership which we have assumed would seem to be the reasonably effective working of our own governmental machinery at home. Few will claim that it is working well. On the contrary, there is abundant evidence that it is dangerously bogged down. Clearly it cannot work until some method is found by which these great industrial-labor conflicts can be settled without strikes which economically strangle the country and involve inconvenience, hardship and actual peril to the people as a whole.

AND, just as clearly, that way has not been found. For nearly four months now at a time when full production is more vital than any other peacetime period in our history, a series of strikes in basic industries essential to the national life, has made idle more than a million men, cost many hundreds of millions in lost wages and lost orders, paralyzed production and alarmingly enhanced the threat of a disastrous inflation.

THOUGH it has had before it for longer than four months legislation designed to provide peaceful ways for dealing with this situation, though the need has grown with every week and though the sentiment of the great majority favors action, Congress has failed to act. The reason, of course, is politics—politics upon the part of an Administration which for twelve years has had a degrading political alliance with labor-union leaders and politics upon the part of senators and representatives, coerced into support or inertia by threats from the political agencies of the unions, or themselves inherently pro-union and anti-industry.

AND now, an even graver threat looms. John L. Lewis has given notice of the intention of the United Mine Workers to strike in 30 days unless their demands are met. Regardless of the merits of these demands, a strike in this industry upon which so much of the economic life of the country depends, will be a crippling affair, complete calamity being averted in the end, as before, only by the Government taking over the mines. Thus, on top of these months of costly strikes, Congress is now given a month's notice of a coal strike which easily may be the most costly of all. It would seem that now it must act; that now it can stall no longer; that now it must respond to the known wish of the great majority which wants—and is entitled to—protection. But there is no sign that it will do these things. Actually there is sound reason to think it will not do them.

FOR INSTANCE, three corrective proposals appear indefinitely hung up in Senate committees. The Case bill which is not drastic and not really comprehensive, but none the less the right kind of law, was overwhelmingly passed by the House. It is now held in the Senate Education and Labor Committee which is pretty well stocked with CIO Senators. And the Hobbs anti-racketeering bill, twice passed by the House and designed only to make unions amenable to the same criminal laws which everyone else must obey, is held again in the same committee.

BOY INVITES GIRL TO HIS HOME

"I am a girl of 17 going with a boy of the same age. I have never met his parents, but his mother is having an affair with his party and he wants me to go. Do you think it would be proper for me to attend? If so how should I act?"

Answer: You really should not go to the party on his invitation alone. His mother should call you on the telephone or write a note inviting you. Suggest this to him. Tell him you do not like to attend on his invitation.

When you arrive at the party, go to his mother and father and offer your best wishes to the former and congratulations to the latter. If there is no one else waiting to talk with the host and hostess, you may stay with them until someone else comes over to greet them. If they are surrounded by guests, move away after you have greeted them.

Be sure to go to your hostess before you leave and thank her for an enjoyable evening.

Suggest to the boy that he bring you around to meet his parents and give his mother an opportunity to know you and invite you to her party.

Question: My living room which is of medium size has three bay windows with a small amount of wall space between each window. Could you suggest a decorative arrangement for these windows?

Answer: Omit valances and place four draperies on the three windows thus: A panel on the left side of the window on the left, a panel on the right side of the window on the right, one between the first and second windows and one between the second and third windows. You should have glass curtain on each of the three windows. If the windows are small, the panels should be sufficiently narrow to prevent congestion.

Present your problems to Miss Markel, who will mail personal replies to questions from readers including stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Truman Is Expected To Run In Two Years
Others Believe Wallace Will Oppose Him
Experiment With Television From Planes

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Democratic senators high in party councils are confident that President Truman will be a candidate for the nomination in 1948, and some of them are predicting beyond a doubt that he will get it.

This view was voiced recently by Senators Lister Hill (D., Ala.), Barbara (D., Mo.) and Senator Kenneth McKellar (D., Tenn.) as presiding officer of the Senate, commented that any man who tries to beat him in 1948 "will have a hard fight on his hands."

At the same time, a number of Senate Democrats are reserving opinion on this question. They point out that a lot of things can happen in the next two years, that the prospect of Mr. Truman's nomination will depend on how well he handles the reconversion problem, and that marked political changes may occur should there be an economic upsurge.

Commerce Secretary Henry A. Wallace's statement that he would not oppose Mr. Truman for the nomination or resign from the cabinet is taken at face value by some Democratic senators.

However, others contend that Wallace still is the potential candidate of the Democratic "left wing" for the presidential nomination and that he will try to capture the nomination if the political climate is favorable.

New Radio Experiment

Scientists now are experimenting with the broadcasting of television and FM frequency modulation from planes flying at an altitude of 30,000 feet.

Initial experiments are being carried out by the Westinghouse corporation.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

MANY PROBLEMS FACE STEPMOTHER

Know a number of wonderful successful stepmothers and I marvel at their achievement. To any one it must be obvious that to be a good stepmother is a far harder job than to bring up only your own children.

Thanks to the appalling increase in divorce (estimated by some experts to reach 4 divorces for 10 marriages by 1955), the number of step parents is enormous. A certain elementary school principal told me recently that one of the big tasks of her office was to keep track of the names of the new fathers of the children.

What about these children and their sense of security? Let us limit this discussion to the stepchild and the stepmother.

Mother Dead

Suppose you become the stepmother of the child whose real mother has died. It may not be easy for the child in case he remembers his real mother to accept you, especially if this child has reached adolescence. Nor will it be easy for you to guide this child as you feel you should. It will be hard for you and the child to forget you are not the first wife and for your husband and his relatives to forget it.

If his relatives, or the child, or both have refused to accept you, they may purposely or unwisely conspire to antagonize you. Yet you may be so skillful and able as to win all of them. Some do. Better still, if you had been able to win their favor before your marriage.

If you should bring one or more children of your own into the new family, jealousies will easily arise between his children and yours. You may have very different upbringing. If new children should issue from this marriage, "my children, your children and our children" would complicate the matter further.

Nevertheless, you and I know some families with such three.

Words Of Wisdom

Cultured and fine manners are everywhere a passport to regard.

Oh my achin' back. . . Kilroy was here. . . and he said that it was great to be a civilian again and he was so happy about the whole thing that he decided to get married.

The men who were in the services have found that it pays to exercise. . . not only does it keep the waist line down but it makes you feel good inside. . . That is why so many men are joining the Y. If you can't see your way clear then maybe you could see your way clear in paying a membership for some little lad who hasn't the cash. . . there are a lot of things you can do for such a chap. For example you could send him to the Fred L. Reitz Y. M. C. A. summer camp. . . or give him a chance to swim all winter in the big clean pool at the "Y" building. . . THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

Union Judiciary Committee. And the really comprehensive and fair Ball-Burton Hatch bill, which would help more than any so far proposed, has been in its Senate committee for nearly five months.

AND NOW, after a long period of inaction, it is announced that the Education and Labor Committee has appointed a subcommittee not to consider pending bills but to draft an altogether new bill. Even if the new bill should be an effective piece of legislation, it could not be drafted, debated and enacted inside of 60 days, much less the 30 given us by Mr. Lewis. But no one thinks the subcommittee will produce an effective bill, for the simple reason that it is packed with CIO Senators opposed to any legislation not favored by the CIO lobby.

THIS is an indefensible state of affairs. Yet, because of the inability to get the masses of the people sufficiently informed to become effectively indignant, nothing can be done about it and the country moves steadily closer to what seems to be economic chaos. How long the tolerance and inertia of the masses will permit the political adherents in public office of a single labor faction to imperil their happiness and prosperity is a question—may be, indefinitely. At any rate, it is a situation that ought to make us ashamed to preach orders, competency and economy to other nations and to press upon them the adoption of a system which we cannot make work ourselves. But we are doing both those things.

sets of children who have grown up together happily. We must admire the self-discipline, skill and wisdom these parents must have exercised. Observing them, we parents with a "normal" family should try harder to achieve a happy family. On the other hand, we should be very charitable toward any problems in such a family or any one with a stepchild. Besides, the stepmother should not be unduly discouraged when things don't go so well.

A Fine Relationship
Here, I think of a certain happy family whom I have observed admirably for some years. When I asked the stepmother to explain the secret of their fine relationship, she replied: "The privilege of rearing a little child is great. And if you believe in the child, love her, and are always loyal to her, she will believe in you and love you and be loyal to you a thousand-fold." It is easy to see how all the problems in the family of a stepmother when the real mother is not if the real mother or the stepmother were a divorcee, especially to the child over 6 or 8 years old.

Consider all the child's memories of the divorce and matters leading to it. Think of the possible tug at the stepchild's heartstrings and poisoning of his heart and head toward the stepmother by the divorcee who had to give up the child, and by the divorcee's relatives.
If you put your observations on the wings of your imagination; you can easily see how the family problems could pile up. Again we must marvel when, despite such difficulties, there are some rather happy families, and we should be chari-

Long Distance lends enchantment

WHEN A SERVICEMAN hits New York or San Diego after years overseas, there's no sound in all the world like that of a familiar voice from home.

It's still a big job to take the boys "home" by Long Distance telephone in a matter of minutes. But it's one your telephone company really enjoys.

Your cooperation in keeping Long Distance calls brief is still necessary to speed the calls of these returning servicemen. But many thousands of miles of Long Distance circuits are being installed to take care of the added demand for Long Distance service.

Delays in Long Distance connections will grow less and less. That, you can count on.

John Hodge And Harold Dickson Named Division Chairmen In Campaign

HAROLD DICKSON

JOHN HODGE

Sidney L. Lockley, general chairman of the annual membership drive of the Y. M. C. A., today named his two divisional chairmen for the March campaign.

The two divisions have been named "Army" and "Navy," and Harold Dickson, who served with the army will head his group, while John Hodge, formerly of the U. S. Navy will take the other division.

The division chairmen are now busy lining up their captains for the drive effort. Each division will be composed of ten teams with five or six team workers for each group. To give the boys members representation in the annual campaign, each division will have three boys' team and seven men's teams.

From the enthusiasm displayed by the general chairman and the two division heads, the drive this year will be one of great interest and intense competition by both the boys' and men's teams.

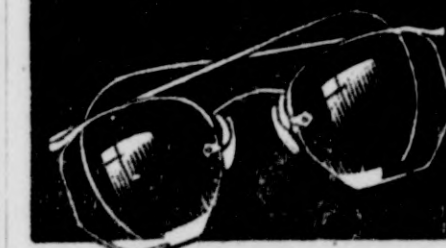

Chairman Lockley hopes to have an organization of about one hundred and ten workers when the opening dinner is held, March 20, at the association's dining hall.

THE TRUTH ABOUT HOME BUILDING IN 1946

IT'S TIME VETERANS AND ALL CITIZENS WERE TOLD THE TRUTH ABOUT THE HOME BUILDING SITUATION.

The main bottleneck to home construction is production of materials and equipment.

No legislation, Presidential announcement, government control plan, or system can produce a single additional home until production of materials is speeded up.

Lumber Dealers and the Building Industry are eager to build homes for veterans and all citizens who need them. The reason few homes are being built is because materials are not being produced.

WHY?

1. Governed by OPA's war-time pricing formulas, it is still more profitable for lumber mills to make items for export—and the items formerly required for war use, than it is to make lumber usable in Home Construction.
2. OPA's war-time pricing formulas are still keeping thousands of small mills out of production.
3. OPA's enforcement policies have allowed the creation of a large black market in lumber which is moving outside of regular channels of trade.

Any government program that does not FIRST remove the obstacles blocking production of materials will simply add additional difficulties to the problem facing the building industry.

Protest Housing Sites In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, March 7.—(INS)—More than 20 persons today continued their protests to the city council against four of the 20 sites for temporary housing units in Pittsburgh.

All the speakers said they wanted to help the veterans, but said the four sites in question were not proper locations. The objectors emphasized the traffic problem and in one case said the area constituted "one of the first civic centers in the nation," and that there were other tracts more suitable.

Kiwanians Hear Prasse Tell Of Work Of Republic

Former Lightweight Champ, Now
On Army Recruiting Service,
Also Addresses Club

New Castle Kiwanis club members heard Arthur T. Prasse, superintendent of the George Junior Republic, which is conducting a campaign for funds for additional buildings, tell of the work the Republic is doing for underprivileged boys in this area, at their weekly luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Wednesday noon.

Program Chairman Joseph A. Hartman, who was formerly located at Grove City, as coach of the football team, also complemented the Republic on the fine sportsmanship of the boys from the Republic.

The Republic had a football team last year, which only won one game, but the boys had a good time, and when letters were awarded them, and funds were lacking for athletic sweaters on which to wear them, the boys knitted their own, Mr. Prasse related.

He spoke of the splendid war record of the youths who had gone into the service from the Republic and from those who had been former residents there, one of whom won the Congressional Medal of Honor for his outstanding exploits against the Japs.

Sgt. Lew Jenkins, former lightweight champion of the world, now attached to the U. S. Army Recruiting Service in this area, also addressed the club, in the interest of the New Regular Army, which is being recruited.

Income Tax Reports and Payments
Are Being Made Earlier
This Year

Although March 15 is the deadline for filing and paying income taxes, now just a day more than a week away, a great many Lawrence county taxpayers have already filed their returns, G. A. Funkhouser, deputy collector here announces.

Simplification of returns has made it easier for people to file, and then the people have become more accustomed to the fact that they must make a return, and get it in on time, he stated.

The local office has been comfortably busy for the past three weeks, taking care of local taxpayers.

Sixteen Strikers In Philadelphia Held Under Bond

PHILADELPHIA, March 7.—(INS)—Sixteen General Electric strikers and sympathizers were held in $500 bail each today for the grand jury, following a verbal clash between magistrate Nathan Belfel and Saul C. Waldbaum, counsel for the CIO-United Electrical Workers.

Those held were among 19 arrested last Thursday when police broke up a parade at GE's Philadelphia plant.

Waldbaum waived the hearings for his clients after he charged Magistrate Belfel was filling out bail bonds for the defendants before they were heard.

Belfel declared he was only signing the bonds and had not filled them in. He said it was his usual practice, to save time.

KoolVent Metal Awnings Being Manufactured Here

Several years ago the KoolVent Metal Awning Corporation of America took over the patent rights for the ventilated all aluminum awnings from the patentee in the south and since that time this corporation has been arranging for the manufacture and distribution of its product through the United States.

The KoolVent Metal Awning company of New Castle has purchased the rights of this awning for six counties, Lawrence, Beaver, Butler, Mercer, Crawford and Venango. Robert M. Garland and Robert L. Preston, owners, have been developing this business for the last several months and just recently have arranged to operate their own plant in the city of New Castle, taking over the machine shop formerly occupied by the N. Y. A. in the Deshon Annex buildings. This factory is now under production and sales organizations have been set up in the different counties.

These awnings are made entirely of aluminum and painted with a baked enamel, to the specifications and desires of the customer. As they are all metal they reduce fire hazards, and also protect the windows, window frames and sills from much of the bad weather, thus cutting down expensive replacements. KoolVents are strongly made and will withstand any loads of built up snow, etc. However, because the ventilated feature permits the free circulation of air, little ice will freeze on them.

There is no maintenance cost with KoolVents. The first cost is the only cost. No expense taking down for the winter, storing and putting up again in the next spring. KoolVents are an all year around installation.

KoolVents are made to order to harmonize with any architectural style in any color scheme desired, and can be easily and quickly repainted to match any future color scheme.

This is a locally owned industry and before very long it is thought that between twenty-five and fifty employees will be needed.

Naval Academy Band Leader Confined To Ship Under Charges

Lt. William R. Sima Charged With Irregular Performance Of Duty

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 7.—(INS)—Naval authorities disclosed today that Lt. William R. Sima, 56, leader of the United States Naval Academy band, is being held in confinement aboard the training ship Reina Mercedes.

Officers said Sima is charged with "irregular performance of duty" and that findings of a board of inquiry have been forwarded to the navy department in Washington with a recommendation for action.

It was learned that the manner in which Sima assigned ratings to enlisted members of the band was one of the matters covered by the inquiry.

Sima has been connected with the naval academy band for more than 30 years and had been expected to apply for retirement in the near future.

James E. Logue Y 2-C City Withdraws Ends Naval Service Sampson Street Bid

Receiving his discharge at Camp Lido Beach, Long Island, N. Y., James E. Logue, Yeoman 3-c, has arrived at the home of his wife, Mrs. Helen Logue, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Logue of 111 South Walnut street.

Yeoman Logue has been in the naval service for 18 months and was stationed at Long Beach, N. Y., attached to the demobilization unit.

He is a graduate of Union high school, class of 1938. Before joining the Navy, Yeoman Logue was employed by the Jones & Laughlin company of Aliquippa.

When council met with Mayor John F. Haven in the chair today in Council Chambers, City Hall, instructions were issued to assistant solicitor of the city, Gilbert Long, to withdraw the city's bid for 13 lots in Sampson street which was presented some time ago to commissioners of Lawrence county.

The city proposed to utilize the ground against which there is a considerable amount in liens and taxes for a centralized storage and repair place for city equipment.

However, Joseph Bowman, operator of a truck service concern, has offered the county $2,600, for the land and proposes to build there.

Council stated the city would not bid against the firm but indicated that if anyone offered a higher bid for the purpose of holding the land for speculation a different attitude would be adopted.

How Newspapers View Proposals By Churchill

(International News Service)
Winston Churchill's speech at Fulton, Mo., in which he proposed an Anglo-American military alliance, produced wide and varied comment in the nation's newspapers.

Philadelphia Inquirer—"For the time being... we should devote American energies to the building up of our own rapidly deteriorating armed strength... at the same time keeping close ties with the British and, within the framework of the U.N.O., striving for an understanding with Soviet Russia which might help to turn Moscow from longhanded aggressiveness to constructive team-play."

Philadelphia Record—"What should we do? How will America decide? The answer lies with Russia. There is still time for her to show clear evidence of good will, a desire for free intercourse between east and west, anxiety for the friendship of all our people."

Philadelphia Bulletin—"The answer would seem to be for the democratic nations to keep themselves strong and while resolutely promoting cooperation within the United Nations to lift their voices unwaveringly in behalf of freedom, right and justice."

The New York Times noted editorially:

"Whether all of Mr. Churchill's proposals are acceptable to the United States or not is not the main point now. The American people have long since realized that the United States and Great Britain are governed by a common destiny which brought them together in two world wars and would inevitably do so in any future war."

"Sharing Mr. Churchill's anxieties about the future, they will give a sympathetic hearing to his proposals for averting a new catastrophe."

New York Herald-Tribune—"Does his 'fraternal' military association require the United States to undertake present British positions in Greece, the near east, India, Burma and Malaya? If it is to halt Russia's 'indefinite expansion' at the present line, will it give the United States an authority, commensurate with the indicated responsibility over the development of the seething peoples who now lie on the British side of it?"

Harrisburg Telegraph—"There was no bragadocio in Churchill's assertion 'last time I saw it all coming and cried aloud to my fellow countrymen and to the world, but no one paid any attention.' That is irrefutable history. Could Chamberlain, Munich and appeasement have been present but silent in his mind as he spoke yesterday?"

PAROLEE BACK IN TOILS AGAIN
ALBUQUERQUE, Pa., March 7.—(INS)—Joseph Gray, 26, a parolee, was back in jail today on a charge of rape filed by a 19-year-old Aliquippa woman who told police Gray attacked her and threatened her with a knife.

The woman told police Gray had accosted her in a dimly-lighted street.

Gray was recently paroled from the Huntingdon, W. Va., reformatory where he had served part of a sentence on a similar charge, police said.

This year the radio industry is 600 per cent larger than before the war.

Half Million School Pupils Are Examined

HARRISBURG, March 7.—(INS)—Secretary of Health Harry W. Weest estimated today that approximately 500,000 public and private school students will have received medical examinations by June under the state's $4,000,000 program.

Weest explained that between the opening of the fall school term in September and January 30, more than $427,000 was expended for medical and dental tests.

During the five-month period, he said, 292,739 students in first, second and third class districts received medical examinations. In addition, 170,188 pupils were given dental tests.

A total of 4,990 teachers and 2,050 school employees also were given medical examinations in the five-month period, Weest added.

Deny Rumors Of Halt In Discharge Of Service Men

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(INS)—The war department formally termed "completely unfounded" rumors that army discharges had been halted, reserves alerted and leaves cancelled.

A spokesman said the announcement was made in response to "numerous inquiries asking for comment on widespread rumors that emergency action had been taken." Army spokesmen reiterated that the army will be dwindled to a "rock bottom" strength of one million, 500 thousand by July 1, 1946. Projected strength of the navy as of September 1, 1946, still stands at 558 thousand officers and men.

Before rumors of a halt in demobilization began Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, chief of staff, told a news conference that another year will be required to bring forces to even the efficiency of 1940.

Artist To Preach At Portersville

in museums and private collections having been awarded prizes here and abroad. The services will continue each evening at 8 o'clock with Rev. Pont bringing the message to the Portersville Youth for Christ organization on Saturday evening, March 16. Elsie McClymonds directs the youth meetings while Rev. Fulton leads the singing.

Ever Try Making Cough Syrup in Your Kitchen?

Gives Quick Relief. And It's So Easy! No Cooking.

If you've never tried mixing your own cough medicine, you've missed a lot. It's no trouble—needs no cooking—and gives you about four times as much cough syrup for your money. You'll say it beats anything you ever tried for coughs due to colds. And here's how it's done:

Make a plain syrup by stirring 5 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until it is dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from your drugstore. Put this into a pint bottle and fill up with your syrup. This makes a pint—a family supply. Tastes fine and never spoils. Children love it. And as for results, you've never seen anything better. It goes right to work on the cough, loosening the phlegm, soothing the irritation, and helping clear the air passages. You will like it for its results, and not merely for the money it saves.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a most reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Training Is Needed For Veterans Now, Advisory Group Says

On-The-Job Training Stressed By Veterans Advisory Council At Meeting Wednesday

Emphasizing the need for more "on-the-job" training at a meeting in the council chambers of city hall Wednesday afternoon, members of the local Veterans' Advisory Council discussed the need for community effort in training the ex-servicemen who will be both the labor and management of the community for the next generation.

The advisory council meeting was conducted by Chairman Dr. C. C. Green, with Executive Secretary Jack Preston reporting that the number of veterans coming to the advisory center for information and assistance has increased steadily each week, from 47 during the week ending January 26 to 71 during the week ending March 2.

Along with the housing problem, the training and employment of returned servicemen is the most pressing problem facing the council and the community at the present time. Members of the group agreed in stating that the matter was one for community effort and planning, with each employer considering whether or not he could cooperate with the "on-the-job" training program.

By unanimous agreement, the council elected Mr. Preston executive vice-chairman, to serve along with Chairman C. C. Green and Vice-Chairman Norman Freeborne.

(THE CITY IN A FOREST)

Do you know the fame of your city has spread far and wide, as being one of the most beautiful cities in this country. True, our downtown business section is old and some buildings show their age. But, just step out in the residential district, and you find yourself in a city of beautiful lawns and neatly kept houses. After all that is where we live, and now that the war is over let's all pull together just a little harder. That spot of grass that hasn't looked so green, let's all do something about it. Let's grow a lot more flowers to cheer those who pass our door.

Beautifying our lawns, our streets and living becomes a wonderful thing. People seem more friendly, the air has a beautiful fragrance, all in all it makes life easier, more enjoyable. So let's all try a little harder to make our lawns and streets a little more beautiful, it will pay us back in enjoyment. Look around and see what you can do to do your part, and let's have a more beautiful city than ever before.

Rocket Bombs Air Weapon Of Future Conflict

Lt. Gen. Eaker Says "Super Bombs" Will Travel 5000 Miles By 1950

HARRISBURG, March 7.—(INS)—The development within four years of super rocket bombs carrying 20,000 pounds of explosives was foreseen today by Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, deputy commander of the U. S. army air forces.

Eaker predicted that by 1950 there would be "super robot bombs" which could travel 2000, 3000 or 5000 miles carry 10,000 to 20,000 tons of explosives and be dropped "with great accuracy."

Eaker, who commanded the eighth air force in England during the early part of the war and later headed the Mediterranean allied air forces, and Lt. Gen. Nathan F. Twining, one-time leader of the U. S. 13th and 15th air forces, addressed the Olmstead Field Forum's club at Harrisburg Tuesday night.

During the war, Eaker said, the United States built up an air force comprising 2,400,000 men and 80,000 planes capable of dropping 10,000 bombs in a single day.

Now Crippled

Rapid demobilization coupled with production cutbacks have helped cripple America's once mighty air armadas, he added.

"It is gone," Eaker bluntly stated. "It is wrecked. There is not in all the air forces today a single squadron or group which could match the efficiency we had during the war."

He expressed the belief, however, that in a few years the air forces would once again be rebuilt to an efficient, effective unit. Between V-J day in August, 1945, and January 31 of this year, approximately 212,000 men enlisted in the air forces, expected to muster about 400,000 men by July 1, Eaker said.

He predicted that American industries would not escape if there was a third world war.

"The aggressor of the future will make sure the industrial cities of the United States are first targets," he warned.

Spatz Able Man
Eaker termed Gen. Carl Spaatz of Boyertown, chief of the U. S. army air forces, an "able man" and emphasized the AAF was in "safe hands."

Twining, who served in both the Pacific and Italian war theatres, disclosed that American military airplane production had dropped from 5000 a month shortly before V-J day to 150 aircraft in January.

Twining commands the air technical service command at Wright field, Dayton, O. At Wright field he explained, AAF experts were analyzing more than 250 tons of documents relating to the production of German planes.

TREAT SEED OATS FOR LEAF BLOTCH

All oat varieties susceptible to leaf blotch should be treated before planting with New Improved Cerean, using one-half ounce per bushel.

New Improved Cerean is more effective than formaldehyde in treating oat seed against leaf blotch. Since leaf blotch also overwinters on the straw as well as on the seed, rotation of crops is recommended.

Oat varieties susceptible to leaf blotch include Vicland, Tama, and Boone, all of which are rust-resistant, early, and good yielders.

Leaf blotch causes oat leaves to develop reddish and yellow colors. Small brown dead spots develop, and finally the leaves dry out and turn brown. Leaf blotch attacks the flowers with the result there is a carry-over on the seed.

EASE THE AGONY OF BACKACHE

Here's the clean, modern way to relieve simple backache. Johnson's Back Plaster! Eases pain, stiffness, strain. Feels great! At all drug stores. Insist on Johnson & Johnson quality.

Garden Notes

If tools were neglected over winter, take care of them now, using a rust remover and oiling them. Get the lawn mower sharpened.

Regardless of what weather may follow, at the earliest possible date and while they are dormant, plant shade trees, dormant roses and evergreens.

Asparagus starts growth so early in the season that digging the winter mulch into the bed should be done as soon as frost is out of the ground, lest the young stalks be injured in the process.

Rugosa roses, hybrid rugosas and all other large bush roses may now have the old canes removed and the younger growth shortened or thinned out. Hybrid perpetual and polyantha roses may be cut back a little and have all dead and broken branches removed but the hybrid tea roses should not be pruned until much later.

Test old seed for germination and plant only that which shows good viability. Place a number of seeds between two strips of white blotting paper and insert the paper in a pan of moist sand. If kept moist and warm, the seeds should sprout within a week.

Herbaceous perennials, especially in the rocky, are often severely damaged by alternate freezing and thawing at this season. They should be kept mulched until they start satisfactory growth.

Alumni Secretary Takes Up Duties At Westminster

NEW WILMINGTON, March 7.—Robert M. Maxwell, newly elected secretary of the Westminster College Alumni Association, has arrived on campus to begin his duties and has opened his office in Old Main.

A graduate of Westminster in 1937, Maxwell was supervisory of music in Plum Township schools before entering the service.

Mrs. R. L. Foulke Taken By Death

Mrs. R. L. Foulke, wife of Rev. R. L. Foulke, D. D., died Tuesday afternoon in a Buffalo hospital. Her husband was the son of the late Rev. and Mrs. Charles Wesley Foulke of this city. Mrs. Foulke had been ill for several weeks with an acute heart condition.

Mrs. Foulke was born in Pluma Leone Alexander at Hendersonville, Pa., of a pioneer family and was educated at Grove City College and the University of Chicago.

She was an able and loyal co-worker with her husband in the work of the church, aiding his efforts with the utmost devotion and efficiency.

In addition to her husband, she leaves three daughters, Mrs. William Hoag, Angola, N. Y., Mrs. H. P. Meese, Buffalo, N. Y., Mrs. C. R. Goodwin, Shaker Heights, O., and seven grandchildren.

A daughter, Dorothy, preceded her in death.

Mrs. E. B. Russell, Miss Katharine Foulke and Katherine Foulke Russell of New Wilmington, departed this morning for Buffalo, to attend the funeral services which will be held at 10 o'clock on Friday, in the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Meese.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be their kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or empty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

IN THE OPEN

The bluebird sat in the tall locust by the roadside and announced to all and sundry that he was home again. It was heart warming to hear once more the pleasing warble of this blue-coated songster. The last morning of February seemed to fairly leap past the noon hour and across the threshold into March as the countryside sat up and rubbed its eyes, and listened to the Spring sales talk of this advance agent.

That night it turned warm and March came onto the scene as serene and gentle as the proverbial lamb. On the way to work I noticed a few stranded angleworms on the sidewalks. These slimy fellows had made a night of it and lost the way home. At noon we surveyed the lawns to see what we could see. The daffodils have broken through and are well on the way to their mid-April blooming date. Grape hyacinths and the tulips are also above ground.

See First Robin

It was during the afternoon of this initial March day that we noted the first returning robin. He was a plump, saucy fellow, perched atop a telephone pole by the roadside, and quite vociferous in his enjoyment of old familiar scenes. A burly bumblebee, bemused by the balmy day, threw off his blankets, and blundered into our hallway. This emergency was met in true mid-July style and Mr. Bee was rudely shown the door. On the pavement by the garage I saw a comatose cricket, who had evidently been unable to withstand the lure of the warm sunlight.

Again it was warm during the dark hours, but the morning brought mercury readings in the upper thirties, and intermittent driving showers of the type the Pennsylvania Dutch call "spritzes". The outlook for hiking was still bad at noon, but I had to know if the skunk cabbage was up and doing, so I threw walking gear into the car and started off, weather or no weather. By the time ticed they were diving. They were so far away that I was unable to make identification beyond the fact that they were one of the "dipper" duck clan.

Flush Another
As I returned along this body of water a trim sharp-skinned hawk flushed from a tree near where I had first seen the marsh hawk. The sharp skin looks in flight like an oversize edition of our common sparrow hawk. A lone crow flew across high above the dam, reminding me of the straggling flock of these sable rascals which had passed over the house that morning, apparently in a sort of migrating move. There were probably several hundred birds in this caravan, which took considerable time in passing over, although not more than a few dozen were visible at any one time.

I parked the car by the roadside and plunged into the thickets on the way to the swale where the skunk cabbage holds forth. This pathway follows the edge of another reservoir and I hiked along to the rhythmic music of the wind-driven breakers slapping against the beach. Soon I arrived at the sunlit glade where

New Wilmington Barber Cuts Hair For 60 Years

Thirty-six years in one location is a long time for any business man, and 60 years in the same business is not to be sneezed at either.

That's the record of J. C. (Nap) Davis, New Wilmington barber, who this week moved his Market street shop to a new location in the theater building. Undoubtedly many a long-time customer of the shop followed habit and found himself a few doors off the mark when he went for his regular once-over-lightly.

Started in 1910

Coming to New Wilmington from Shippen Rock in 1910, Mr. Davis has run his shop continuously since then, being one of only two local businessmen who were in business that year and are still carrying on at the same old stand. The other is John Wright, hardware merchant.

Mr. Davis started cutting hair at the age of 12, using a chair, the legs of which had been cut down to allow the boy to reach his customers' heads. He cut hundreds of heads of hair, using only scissors and a comb, and charging only ten cents per head. His first job in a regular shop was in New Castle in 1894; later he went to Jackson Center, Greenville, and Shippen Rock. When he came to New Wilmington pompadours were the hair style, and in the course of the next three decades he saw many changes in styles, with such "atrocities" as the Prussian clip, the off-the-neck style, and others. He is opposed to any deviation from the normal method of cutting a man's hair. As for women—well, he was relieved when the beauty shops relived him of the responsibility of giving Dutch bobs twenty years ago.

Individual shaving mugs, of course, were the accepted thing in "It was known in those days," Mr. Davis says, "as the muddiest spot between New Castle and Mercer."

Barber Davis is still cutting the hair of a half a dozen people for whom he performed the service in 1910.

DEMAND CANCELLATION

SCRANTON, Pa., March 7—(INS)—Federal Judge Albert L. Watson today had under consideration at Scranton a petition demanding cancellation of the sale of the Williamsport Wire Rope company to the Bethlehem Steel company in 1937 for $3,300,000.

Charles F. Greevey and Charles Bidelspacher, Williamsport attorneys, filed the petition in behalf of 40 former stockholders in the bankrupt firm who alleged sale of the assets was fraudulent. Another petition requested appointment of a receiver to take charge of assets.

There were indications that Judge Watson would appoint a special master to hear the case.

The Pentagon building, in Washington, D. C., contains about 200 miles of steel pipe, which is approximately the distance from Chicago to Indianapolis.

Instructors Of First Aid Classes Vote On Officers

Instructors in Red Cross classes of First Aid, Accident Prevention, and Water Safety met for an election of officers in the local chapter house on Beaver street, Wednesday evening.

Harry Cullford was chosen president; Mrs. Sylvia Sturdevant, vice president; Miss Marguerite Uhl, secretary; and Elmer Gerlach, treasurer. In the absence of the former president and vice president, Mr. Gerlach presided over the meeting.

Third chapter of the new textbook adopted by the club was reviewed by Harry Cullford, and the fourth chapter was summarized by Mrs. Leonard Cramer.

Refreshments, served by Mrs. Cramer and Mrs. Sturdevant, featured a large and cleverly decorated birthday cake celebrating the second anniversary of the club. Mrs. Samuel Rashid and Albert Batten will be hostesses and host at the meeting of the club on April 3.

'Bluenose Regime' Is Frankfurt Order

Strict Morality Regime Is Instituted At U. S. Army Headquarters In Germany

FRANKFURT, March 7.—(INS)—A "bluenose regime" of strict morality was instituted at U. S. Army headquarters in Frankfurt today following recent revelations of "irregular" conditions at that installation.

A headquarters spokesman announced that the new regime would be enforced rigidly.

The new policy was instituted after complaints that American officers were entertaining German frauleins as "week-end or overnight guests" at the headquarters.

After announcing the "bluenose regime" the spokesman said: "Our attitude is that many of our officers and civilian personnel employed at headquarters have proved themselves unable to assume the responsibility which we gave them. Now we are forced to install the new system."

He pointed out that there were other, and less publicized, misdemeanors such as the disappearance of 10,000 cream pitchers and sugar bowls from the officers mess—and the disappearance of 25,000 teaspoons.

It was believed that these were taken as souvenirs, or for use in private binges.

BRIDGE ENGINEER IS FOUND SUICIDE

PITTSBURGH, March 7.—(INS)—George E. Shepard, retired prominent bridge engineer, was found hanged today in his apartment in the fashionable Oakland district of Pittsburgh. The body was discovered by a maid.

This is a new kind of peace. It appears to have more military secrets than did the war.

A People in Confusion

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

Gideon chooses his soldiers.

"The Lord is my helper; I will not fear."—Heb. 13:6.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for March 10 is Judges, the Midianites, being Hebrews 13:6. "The Lord is my helper, I will not fear.")

Joshua died and all his generation, and another generation arose that did not remember Jehovah and all His goodness to his people. Living as they did among the nations whom they had not driven from the land as the Lord had directed them, these people corrupted the Israelites and they became again worshippers of Baal and Ashteroth, who was worshipped as the moon goddess and as Venus.

The anger of Jehovah was kindled against His people, and He delivered them into the hands of the spoilers that despoiled them, and He sold them into the hands of their enemies round about, so that they could no longer stand before their enemies.

Jehovah raised up judges to lead them, but they would not listen to them, but ran after strange gods. Their groanings brought help from Jehovah again and again, but always they backslid and Jehovah's wrath was raised against them.

Numbers Increase

They increased in numbers, however, and filled the soil, keeping down the wild beasts and were trained in warlike skill. They endured numerous oppressions, and a number of judges were raised up to lead them, but finally the Midianites and the Amalekites, nomad tribes, made yearly forays on their territory, so terrifying them that they hid in caves, dens and strongholds. They were brought very low after seven years of such forays.

So reduced were the Israelites

Cincinnati Mayor To Be Speaker Here

Mayor James Garfield Stewart To Address Truckers' Event On Saturday Night

JAMES GARFIELD STEWART

Mayor James Garfield Stewart of Cincinnati, O., will be the principal speaker Saturday night, March 9 when Lawrence county chapter Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association, holds its annual Ladies' Night in The Castleton hotel.

Samuel A. Mooney, general chairman of the event said today every detail is arranged and he and President J. Fred Clarke expect this year's dinner to be the best the association has ever held.

Betty Ellen Morris, noted Pittsburgh singer, will be the soloist of the evening.

It is anticipated that every seat of the 250 available will be filled with guests, a number of whom will be here from Pittsburgh, Harrisburg and other cities.

Government investigators reported to the war department today that American industries would be doomed in the event of enemy air attacks even if moved underground.

This warning was issued in the oil division report of the United States strategic bombing survey, which recently made a comprehensive study of the army air forces campaign against German fuel plants.

The observers stressed that despite Germany's elaborate protective measures the World War II allied air offensive effectively stopped oil production with decisive military consequences and halted production of explosives.

Pontiac, Mich., Plans To Ask Strike Action

PONTIAC, Mich., March 7.—(INS)—Pontiac City Manager George Bean said today that Mayor Arthur Law will call a special meeting of the city commission to consider asking President Truman to intervene in the General Motors strike.

Bean said Law told him he would take the matter up with the commission at a special session.

The Detroit Common Council passed a resolution appealing to the President for action in the stalled General Motors-UAW-CIO wage negotiations. The Pontiac commission will consider following the Detroit council's lead.

Canada To Lend Britain Big Sum

OTTAWA, March 7.—(INS)—The Canadian government announced today that it has agreed to lend Great Britain one billion 250 million dollars.

The loan, whose terms parallel those of the proposed U. S. loan of three billion 750 million dollars now before the American Congress, will be repayable over a period of fifty years beginning December 31, 1951.

It will bear interest at two per cent beginning with January 1, 1951, and must be approved by the Canadian Parliament which reconvenes March 14.

Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King, in announcing the loan, said that it had been granted following a series of Ottawa negotiations between representatives of the Canadian government and the United Kingdom.

Reveals Germans In British Zone Face Starvation

BERLIN, March 7.—(INS)—L. Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, Deputy British Military Governor, admitted today that some 10 million Germans in the British zone of occupation face starvation conditions under required rationing now in effect.

Indicating his concern with the situation, the general departed from his normal procedure by permitting correspondents at a news conference to quote him by name.

He pointed out that even the present reduced ration averaging 1,100 to 1,200 calories a day could not be maintained "unless we receive further substantial shipments of wheat."

Although reports showed no serious physical deterioration among normal consumers, Gen. Robertson warned that 1,300 calories mark the "red line" and that to go below this figure is to invite progressive degeneration.

OUTLINES PLAN FOR REDUCTION OF BRITISH NAVY

LONDON, March 7.—(INS)—A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, today announced a program for reduction of Britain's navy and personnel.

In presenting naval estimates to the House of Commons, Alexander revealed that at the end of the war royal navy personnel totaled 778,000 officers and men.

He said it was hoped to reduce this number to not more than 200,000, including the women's auxiliary and trainees, by the end of 1946.

Alexander added that since V-day the navy cancelled construction of 727 war vessels from aircraft carriers down.

See Some Hope For Break In G.E. Strike

NEW YORK, March 7.—(INS)—Hopes for an early break in the 50-day-old General Electric strike rose today following announcement by both the company and CIO United Electrical Workers that negotiations will be resumed early next week.

It was reported unofficially that the company has made a new wage offer based on wage settlements in other mass production industries where pay increases of 18 and 18 1/2 cents an hour were granted. The last GE previous offer was 10 cents an hour.

GE President Charles E. Wilson, revealing that arrangements for the new meetings were being made by telephone, said:

"Until labor negotiations are completed, any definite statement could only raise new difficulties."

Transport Crashes At Olmstead Field

The Public Relations office said the ship was believed to have been piloted by Capt. J. J. Donner, a Philadelphia assistant chief of flight operations for the depot. The PRO withheld the names of the injured personnel temporarily. The flight originated at Miami, Fla.

A board of inquiry will be named to investigate the crash it was reported.

Colliery Dispute Comes To An End

SHAMOKIN, Pa. March 7.—(INS)—The six-day-old dispute which throttled production at the Susquehanna Colliery's Glen Burn Mine near Shamokin came to an end today after the company agreed to allocate 40,000 tons of anthracite a year to the Shamokin Truckers Association.

The dispute was settled following a conference between officials of the association, the company and the local Chamber of Commerce. Other mines in the area have agreed to pro rate production for the association which has many ex-servicemen as members.

Modified Housing Bill Passes House

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(INS)—The House passed and sent to the Senate today a housing bill stripped of many provisions urged by President Truman in the program to build two million 700 thousand homes.

The final vote on the measure was 357 to 24.

All-America Grid Schedules Drawn

New Pro Football Loop Has 56-Game Card For First Year, With Eight Teams

CHICAGO, March 7.—(INS)—The All-America Football Conference Monday had a 56-game schedule for its first season, drawn on a home-and-home basis for its eight teams. Following a two-day schedule meeting in Chicago, All-America Commissioner Jimmy Crowley confirmed the fact that each team will play seven games at home and seven away in 1940.

The season will start September 8 and end December 15. Sunday, Dec. 22, has been booked as the date of the championship playoff game.

Although the schedule was not made public, Crowley admitted that the league will exploit its unusual geographical advantages. Home games for the Miami team will take place at the tail end of the season; conversely, the Buffalo club will have finished with its host duties by November first, before the rigors of winter set in.

Night games, with the accent on Chicago, Brooklyn and San Francisco, are also on the docket, with an eye towards stadium lease restrictions and the competition from National League clubs.

CHAMPION OPTIMISTIC

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 7.—(INS)—Miami Manager Ben Chapman of the Phils is slightly optimistic, but he claimed today his club would have won the pennant last year.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Blue Jays occupied the cellar in 1939, Ben declared: "With this same squad, plus possibly two pitchers, I would have won the pennant last year."

Penn State has booked two night games for the 1940 football season. The Lions have played under the lights only once before.

Major Loop Card Back To Normal

NEW YORK, March 7.—(INS)—The National League baseball circuit, released today, is back to normal. Both eastern and western clubs will start and finish in their own sections.

In opening day games the favored St. Louis Cardinals will entertain the Pittsburgh Pirates on April 16, the Chicago Cubs will invade Cincinnati, the Boston Braves will entertain the Brooklyn Dodgers, and the New York Giants will play host to the Phillies.

Boston will play night games at home for the first time. St. Louis will be the champion "tows," with 28 after-dark engagements listed.

Reds Resent Story About Cellar Post

TAMPA, Fla., March 7.—(INS)—Deacon Bill McKee, noticeably worried about the Cincinnati Reds' weak outfielding, speeded up preparations today for an exhibition game with the Detroit Tigers next Sunday.

The Reds, noting the remark of columnist Caswell Adams, International News Service sports writer, that their aggregation was practically doomed to finish last in the National League had something to "talk about."

"We hope we have Adams around," some of the lads were saying, "when October comes by."

Pirates Giving Hollywood Talent

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., March 7.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Pirates may leave Pitcher Fred Clevinger and Outfielder Jack Mayhew in Southern California when they break camp in San Bernardino.

The two Bucs, outstanding players in top minor loops, probably will be farmed out to the Hollywood Stars for further seasoning.

A deal also in the making to turn over a couple of pitchers, a catcher and an outfielder to the Pacific Coast club.

Yankee Boss Wants Johnny Vander Meer

TAMPA, Fla., March 7.—(INS)—In reply to published reports that President Larry McPhail of the New York Yankees would like to make a trade for Pitcher Johnny Vander Meer of the Cincinnati Reds, Warren Giles, general manager of the Reds, said today:

"When MacPhail talks about even a possibility of getting Vander Meer, he's talking just to hear himself talk."

STAYING IN BIG TEN
CHICAGO, March 7.—(INS)—The University of Chicago announced definitely that it is remaining in Western Conference basketball. That much was evident after a discussion with the university athletic directors, despite a report that Chicago would be compelled to quit the Big Ten by pressure from other conference schools at meetings scheduled in Chicago on March 8 and 9.

F. & M. NAMES DIRECTOR

LANCASTER, Pa., March 7.—(INS)—Lt. Col. W. Austin Bishop, former University of Pennsylvania wrestling coach, on Saturday was named director of athletics and professor of physical education at Franklin and Marshall college.

Bishop will assume his duties at F. & M. March 15 and will work with Prof. Charles W. Mayer until the latter retires as athletics director in July. Bishop presently is assigned to the army special service division at Washington.

Charlie Spidel, who'll be back at the wrestling helm next season, coached at Penn State from 1926 until he went to war in 1942.

Arctic Bound Sailors Wear New Life Vests

Navy Personnel On Arctic Destined Test Cruise Begin Wearing New Gear

ABOARD USS MIDWAY, 250 Miles East of St. Johns, Newfoundland, March 7.—(INS)—The navy broke out its new Buck Rogers Arctic gear Wednesday including a super duper Mae West life vest.

The carrier Midway is the first ship equipped with the new Mae West which already has helped save five men from three ditched torpedo bombers. The sixth man, Ensign William A. Conrad Jr., of Bryan, Tex., held diver pilot, was drowned Saturday.

The new life jackets when inflated lift up the chin instead of turning the face forward, adding a margin of safety in heavy seas. It has a mirror which can reflect the sun 15 miles under good conditions, reflector buttons on the back of the mirror for picking up searchlight reflections at night, a flashlight, two red star shell grenades for night signaling, a yellow day smoke signal, a green day dye marker and a fog or night whistle.

The men who ditched thought it might be improved with a strap to keep the vest from crawling up the neck.

Floating Signal Kit Commander Desmond Fahy of Binghamton, N. Y., formerly of the Salem, Mass., coast guard station, also demonstrated a floating signal kit to be dropped to stranded aviators. The kit contains a stronger flash light visible six miles, a veristar launcher visible 21 miles. The hand smoke grenades can be seen seven miles, the sea marker dye one to three miles.

Fahy said that a pilot and life jacket are virtually invisible from a height of 1,000 feet and a life raft of any size cannot be seen without signaling equipment more than a mile and a half. He expects the new equipment to save many lives.

He said the new 10-man life rafts are equipped with Gibson Girl hand cranked radio transmitters which can send 100 miles. The navy also has sonar buoys audible 20 miles, radar reflections which can be picked up anywhere within the line of sight and a new sea transmitter similar to the army's walkie talkie.

Submersion Suits Fahy demonstrated two new submersion suits which look like Superman movie costumes and which have made life comfortable in the water for the five rescued crewmen.

The flyers reported that both suits sipped a little water at the neck. They said the older suits with web-like feet are better to swim with than the newer yellow suits with rubber boots.

Capt. C. J. McGregor, Arctic aviator, said the navy should provide a parka hood extending out from the face to cut off the wind. He said some fur or other air containing substance would be added to keep the goggles and wind masks from freezing to the face.

Spiritual Crusade To Start At Church

Musical Program Friday At Mission

Young people of Clifton Flats mission will present a musical program at the mission, Pennsylvania avenue and Berner street, Friday evening, March 8, at 7:30 o'clock. H. J. Wolford will be in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Moyer, of Fremont, O., will play the accordion, solo-vox and the piano. Mr. Moyer has been here before in New Castle, where he helped the Rev. Homer Price organize the First United Brethren church.
